

Gift Card

(1) Where can I use my card?

Your card may be used anywhere debit cards are accepted. The brand marks on your card indicate where the card is accepted and typically will be displayed on the merchant's store front. Your card can also be used for online and telephone purchases once the card has been registered.

(2) How do I use my card?

To use your Gift Card as a signature based transaction at point-of-sale, please select the "credit" option. If your Card is a MasterCard or Visa Gift Card, you may obtain a Personalized Identification Number ("PIN") by calling the number on the back of your Card and following the interactive voice recognition ("IVR") prompts and instructions. After obtaining a "PIN" you can select "debit" at point-of-sale. Your Card cannot be used to obtain cash at ATMs or obtain cash back in any purchase transaction.

(3) How can I add funds to my card?

Gift Cards are disposable one time use cards. Therefore additional funds cannot be added to the card.

(4) What happens if my card is declined at the point-of-sale?

A couple different scenarios may have caused your transaction to be declined.

1. The merchant does not accept the association type
2. The merchant selected 'gift' instead of 'credit' or 'debit' to run the transaction.
3. The merchant attempted to process the purchase for a greater amount than what is available on the card.

If this happens, you should ask the merchant to run a "split-tender" transaction which will allow you to pay a portion of your purchase with your card and the remaining balance with another form of payment.

(5) What is a split tender transaction and how does it work?

If you wish to use your Gift Card to purchase an item for more than the available funds, depending on the Merchant's policy, you may be able to use your Gift Card toward a portion of the final purchase price, and then use another form of payment to pay the remaining balance. This is called a "split tender" transaction because you would be splitting the final transaction amount between your Gift Card and another form of payment. Before you request a "split tender" transaction, you will need to know your card value. Then, you must ask the Merchant if two forms of payment will be accepted. If the Merchant agrees, request that the Gift Card value be used as the first form of payment, and then use another form of funds to pay the remaining balance. Some retailers will only allow a "split tender" transaction if the second form of payment is cash or check. Online and most mail order merchants do not permit "split tender" transactions. We do not guarantee that the Merchant will accept two forms of payment, such as two prepaid cards.

(6) Can I still make a purchase if I don't have enough funds on my card?

Since this is a prepaid card, you may only use the amount of funds you have available on your card. If you create a negative balance on your card, you are responsible for the negative balance. Some merchants can run a split-tender transaction which will allow you to pay a portion of your purchase with your card and the remaining balance with another form of payment.

(7) Can I use my card at restaurants?

Yes, you may use your Gift Card at a restaurant the same as you do at any other merchant. However, it is common for service-oriented merchants to automatically factor in an additional percentage (often times, up to 20% over the purchase price) to cover any gratuity you may leave on the card. You should ensure that your Gift Card has an available balance that is 20% greater than your total bill.

(8) How do I use my card at hotels and car rental agencies?

Like restaurants and other service-oriented merchants, companies associated with travel services may automatically factor in an additional percentage to cover incidental charges that you might incur. Each entity varies in the amount they are able to over-authorize. To prevent a decline, we advise you to check with the company to determine their policy for over-authorizing.

(9) Can I use my card at the ‘pay at the pump’ gas stations?

Your card can be used at automatic fuel dispensers. However, an authorization of at least $75 for Visa and MasterCard and $100 for Discover will be authorized to your account. This authorization may not be removed from your account for several days. To prevent a potential over-authorization, we suggest that you pay for your gas in the service station.

(10) Can I use my card in a foreign country?

- Puerto Rico
- Northern Mariana Islands
- United States Virgin Islands
- American Samoa
